PRINT. CUT. START SOMETHING.

A good question.
A new possibility.

18 printable conversation cards | English

Bring a useful question to a gathering, a coffee conversation, or a meeting across fields. Each card pairs an opener with a follow-up to turn curiosity into something concrete.

01 Find a connection

02 Explore a career move

03 Talk side projects

One card. Three steps.

1. Choose. Pick a topic that fits the moment. Take turns; anyone can choose another card.
2. Follow up. Use the follow-up to explore a detail, then offer a small example of your own.
3. Take a next step. Leave with an activity to try, a career question to research, or a small project to explore.

Take the question to a new table.

Explore current events and start registration with The Weekend Club.

Print pages 2-4 single-sided at 100% on the matching paper size. Cut along the dotted guides.

Free to download, print and share. Please keep The Weekend Club credit and links.

Find a connection

6 conversation cards | Start with one | Anyone can choose another

01 / 18

What little preference would you love someone to remember about you?

FOLLOW UP

How do you usually remember other people's preferences?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

02 / 18

If you introduced someone to your favorite hobby, what tiny part would you let them try first?

FOLLOW UP

What would you want them to notice?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

03 / 18

If rain interrupted a day out together, would you find another place to go or leave the day open?

FOLLOW UP

How would you like to make that decision together?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

04 / 18

What would you enjoy being a beginner at with someone: cooking a dish, learning a dance, or something else?

FOLLOW UP

Would you rather figure it out together or watch someone demonstrate first?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

05 / 18

At an exhibition or market, what would you enjoy having a companion point out to you?

FOLLOW UP

Has someone ever helped you notice something you would have missed?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

06 / 18

If a conversation went well today, would a short coffee or doing an activity together feel more comfortable next time?

FOLLOW UP

Do you like agreeing on a time first, or talking about what you might do?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

Explore a career move

6 conversation cards | Start with one | Anyone can choose another

07 / 18

If I had an hour to try your kind of work, which real, small task would you give me?

FOLLOW UP

At what point might I get a feel for whether I enjoy it?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

08 / 18

What skill from another job or part of your life turned out to be useful in this field?

FOLLOW UP

Can you think of a specific situation where it helped?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

09 / 18

What is a regular part of your working week that you did not expect when you entered the field?

FOLLOW UP

If you had known earlier, how would you have prepared?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

10 / 18

How can you tell whether a team mostly works independently or talks things through together?

FOLLOW UP

What could you ask before joining to understand that rhythm?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

11 / 18

If I made a small sample project to explore this field, which part would you look at first?

FOLLOW UP

What would show you that I understood the problem, rather than just the tools?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

12 / 18

What small thing have you seen a newcomer do that made work easier for the whole team?

FOLLOW UP

What background did they need to understand first?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

Talk side projects

6 conversation cards | Start with one | Anyone can choose another

13 / 18

What recurring little task has recently made you think, “There must be an easier way”?

FOLLOW UP

How do you handle it now, and which step takes the most time?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

14 / 18

To find out whether an idea is worth building, who would you show it to and which small part would you show first?

FOLLOW UP

What would you want them to try, rather than simply say whether they like it?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

15 / 18

If we each taught the other something for fifteen minutes, what would you teach and what would you want to learn?

FOLLOW UP

What small result could we finish in those fifteen minutes?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

16 / 18

Instead of introducing yourself by job title, what small piece of work would show how you could help?

FOLLOW UP

What problem did it solve, and which part was yours?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

17 / 18

When a project has two promising directions, would you rather try a version first or agree on criteria for choosing?

FOLLOW UP

What information would make you reconsider your first choice?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register

18 / 18

If we tried collaborating for just one afternoon, what small result would you want us to finish?

FOLLOW UP

How could we divide it so we each know what to do?

THE WEEKEND CLUB

Explore & register